

Call for Proposals: Evolution Education around the Globe

Co-edited by Hasan Deniz and Lisa Borgerding

We invite you to consider submitting a chapter proposal for our upcoming Springer Publishers book: Evolution Education around the Globe.

Summary:

This edited book aims to provide a global view on evolution education. We are seeking chapter proposals which will describe the state of evolution education in different countries that are representative of geographical regions around the globe such as Eastern Europe, Western Europe, North Africa, South Africa, North America, South America, Middle East, Far East, South East Asia, Australia, and New Zealand.

Each chapter in the book will address the following topics:

- Public acceptance of evolutionary theory within the social, political, and cultural context of the country
- The existence and extent of influence of anti-evolution movements in the country
- Place of evolutionary theory in the curriculum
- Emphasis given to evolutionary theory in biology teacher education programs
- Biology teachers' attitudes toward teaching evolutionary theory
- Suggestions to improve evolution education in the country

Instructions for Proposal Abstracts:

Interested contributors should email an abstract to hasan.deniz@unlv.edu by September 30 2016 with the following information:

- Contributor(s) name and institution
- Proposed chapter title
- 250-500 word summary of proposed chapter
- Current CV

Accepted full chapters will be approximately 6000 words (15-20 double-spaced pages long) and submitted as a .doc file by February 1, 2017.

All chapters must be original, unpublished work.

Deadline: All proposal abstracts should be submitted by September 30, 2016.

Notifications: Contributors will be notified of acceptance by November 1, 2016.
